DEMOCRATS WILL MEET IN SPRING.

PLANNING FOR CONFERENCE AT INDIANAPOLIS APRIL 12.

PLANS AND PREPARATIONS TO BE MADE TO UNITE ALL DEM-OCRATS FOR THE CAMPAIGN
OF 1912.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—A national democratic harmony conference will be held at Indianapolis
April 12 and 13 for the purpose of preparing for the campaign of 1912.

Chairman Pence of the board of directors of the national league of democratic clubs has issued the call and sent it broadcast over the country.

At this conference plans will be launched to unite all democrats into one big party for the presidential fight next year. Prominent democrats from all parts of the United States have been invited to attend this conference.

LEAGUE HOPES TO STRENGTHEN
IMPRESSION THAT PRESIDENT IS IN SYMPATHY WITH THE
"OLD GUARD."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—With the hope of entrenching itself in public confidence as the militant advocate of progressive legislation, the National Progressive Republican league is openly opposing the re-nomination
of President Taft.

The league will do everything possible to strengthen the popular impression that Taft is a reactionary and is in sympathy with the
"old guard."

The relations of Col. Theodore Roosevelt to the new league is creating much speculation.

residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon

ALLEGED CRIMINAL IN JAIL.

ED HUFNER BROUGHT BACK TO FACE SEVERAL CHARGES.

BELIEVED TO HAVE STOLEN
COAT AND BROKEN INTO HOUSE
BUT AUTHORITIES HAVE NO
PROOF.

Marshal Gore returned Tuesday afternoon from Miami with Ed Hufner, wanted here on suspicion of being the young man who stole Otto Wei-ner's coat the evening of December 26 and breaking into the home of Mrs. Hendrix on Myrtle avenue the following evening.

The young man was picked up at Miami on a charge of petty larceny, but no proof could be furnished to substantiate the charge and he was turned over to Marshal Gore on the warrant charging him with the theft of a coat here.

Hufner is one of the smoothest
men ever held in custody in Daytona and it is doubtful if the authorities here will be able to prove any of the charges against him. He was first arrested here on the street for riding a bicycle in the evening without any light, the marshal taking the wheel as security for his appearance
in court the following morning.

Needless to say he did not appear
and the marshal still has the bicycle.
Hufner admits the bicycle did not belong to him and claims he picked it up on the North bridge. Up to this time no owner has been found for the wheel, which is still held at the city hall.

After the theft of the coat and breaking into the Hendrix home,
with both of which Hufner is charged, the young man made his way to Ormond and admits beating his way on a train from that place to West Palm Beach. He spent several days in Palm Beach and then went to Miami, where he was nabbed
by the sheriff.

He doesn't deny stealing the coat
here, even admitting he left a coat
at West Palm Beach, but says it is up to the authorities to prove that he stole the coat. He laughs at the charge of breaking into the Hendrix home and declares nobody can prove this against him.

Hufner, who is 21 years of age, displays a remarkable knowledge of the courts and criminal law, showing beyond any question that he has had considerable experience with the courts. At Miami he gave another name than Hufner and admits freely that Hufner is not his real name, declaring at the same time that if the authorities here want to know his real name it is up to them to find out. He says he came from New York, has seen considerable of the country and knows what his rights are.

Just what it is to be done with him
is the problem facing the authorities here at the present time. The burden of proof of charges rests with the prosecutors and up to this time nobody can be found who can positively identify the young man as having committed any crime. If an owner for the bicycle can be found he can be prosecuted for theft of the wheel. The young man does not much fear this charge, because he declares the bicycle is worth less than $20, which would prevent a charge of grand larceny being made against him.

In the meantime he is being held in the city jail while efforts are being made to gather some definite proof against him. If this can not be done within a few days he will be turned loose again.

hanging this morning.

KEY WEST, Jan. 25—Contrary winds today delayed the start of Aviator McCurdy in his flight to Havana. Everything was in readiness for the start this morning, but the aviator considered it too dangerous to attempt the feat in the strong wind.

When it was seen that he would be unable to make the start this morning it was announced he would make the attempt later in the day
if the wind moderated, and if not another start would be made tomorrow morning.

EVERYBODY SHOULD GO TO MEETING.

TO FORM BOARD OF TRADE AT MASS MEETING TONIGHT.

QUESTION OF WHETHER DAY-TONA WILL FORGE AHEAD OR LAG BEHIND WILL BE SETTLED FOR GOOD.

Don't forget tonight is the night for you to go to the city hall and lend encouragement to the movement to establish a board of trade in Daytona. The most influential business men of the city are behind this movement, but the burden cannot be undertaken by a few and unless the sentiment is general among the business men and citizens the effort will be given up and Daytona will be left to drag along behind the other cities of the south. This movement is one to put our own city up among the other progressive cities and let everybody know we are awake and alive.

BUSINESS COMES TO DAYTONA FROM FAR OFF PANAMA.

R. J. Malby, manager of the Bond Lumber company, recently received a letter from John Atkins, of Gatun, Canal Zone, Panama, making inquiry as to potato barrels, orange boxes, tomato and lettuce crates, etc., showing that Daytona and its business interests are becoming known far from home.

MRS. SCHENCK BREAKS DOWN; SHEDS TEARS.

IS SCATHINGLY ARRAIGNED BY PROSECUTING ATTORNEY.

UNITED STATES SENATE TO IN-VESTIGATE ALLEGED AT-TEMPT BY POLICE TO WORK
"THIRD DEGREE."

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 25 —
While being pictured as a character deserving neither sympathy nor pity, in a scathing arraignment by Prosecuting Attorney Handlan in his stumping up address today, Mrs.
Laura Schenck charged with attempting to poison her husband, broke down and wept. Her form was shaken with sobs, which could be heard over the court room.

It is believed the case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

It is said the United States senate committee will investigate an alleged attempt by the police here to work the "third degree." The purpose of the investigation will be to learn the methods used by the prosecutor to extort an alleged confession to prove Mrs. Schenck really attempted to poison her husband.
An inquiry relative to the case
has been received from the committee.

DANVILLE, Ill., Jan. 25—The investigation into the charge of vote
buying has spread to every county in the eighteenth district today.
This is the district represented by Speaker Cannon in the house of representatives.

Local politicians, who are charged to have knowledge of the alleged vote buying and selling, are disappearing and the general exodus
hampers the work of the grand jury.

SEVEN MEN ARE KILLED IN EXPLOSION OF POWDER.

FATAL ACCIDENT OCCURS IN COAL MINE WHEN PIPE
STRIKES LIVE SPARK, WHICH FLIES INTO POWDER.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 25—Seven men are killed by an explosion of blasting powder today in the mines
of the Erie Coal company. One miner carrying an iron pipe struck it against a steel support, with the result that a live spark flew into the powder.

STOCKS ARE ACTIVE;
FRACTIONAL ADVANCE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25—Stocks are active with a fractional advance this morning, with Pacifics and St. Paul leading the upward movement.
Reading opened higher, but shaded off later. Steel was firm and higher.

CROWDING WORK ON THE CANAL.

TO COMPLETE OPERATIONS WITHIN NEXT FEW MONTHS.

CANAL COMPANY HOPES TO HAVE WATERWAY DEEPENED
AND WIDENED BEFORE SUM-MER MONTHS COME.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Jan. 25—According to the present plans of the Florida Coast Line Canal and Transportation company the canal from St. Augustine will be completed to the required depth of six feet within the next three months. It is now and has been for many months passable
for boats of considerable draught,
but the required six feet is lacking
in many places in Pablo creek at the extreme northern end of the canal. The first dredge is 22 miles north of the city.

The South Carolina and dredges
No. 2 and 3 are working in that end of the canal and are rapidly opening the channel through and straightening it out.

When this work is completed the entire dredging fleet will be focused on the canal south of St. Augustine.
At present the Daytona and dredge
No. 4 are working between this city and Daytona deepening and widening the canal. The required depth there is five feet. A six-foot channel has been opened into Lake Worth from Jupiter inlet, where the canal was closed by the October hurricane and it is now expected that the dredge
will be placed at work clearing out the channel at the southern end of Lake Worth.

Besides the Daytona and No. 4 between Daytona and St. Augustine excavator No. 2 is being used cutting away the banks for the dredges. The material handled is very soft and it has been found necessary to make the canal quite wide in order to prevent the caving in of the high banks. Every effort being made is in the direction of making all work done as permanent as possible.

It is probable that later on a long cut will be made across the marsh at Summer Haven. The flowing and ebbing of the swift tides at Matanzas inlet continually forms bars in the channel and fall storms sometimes wash over a part of the sand below Summer Haven, causing bad fills in the canal. By making the proposed cut across the marsh the canal will be more lasting.

DELAND, the county seat of Volusia County,
is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surface
road recently constructed.

At Deland is located the John B.
Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational Deland is known as "The Athens of Florida."

Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $400,000 in buildings and equipment; nearly $300,000 endowment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $120,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $60,000. Elizabeth Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 3,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. Deland proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida.
The predominant products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 300,000 boxes this year. Grapes, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons,
plums, pecans, guavas, strawberries
and other fruits are grown in plenty.
In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights,
a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at little cost.

Nine houses of worship testify that Deland is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics,
besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented.
The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to Deland is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water
bubble from the earth every minute.
From Deland automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from Deland to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from Deland
to Lake Helen, a like distance.

Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY

The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

By L. C. DEMAREE.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who has ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pelucid Halifax River. Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white-headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, with hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments, both solid and liquid, ready for a cruise upon this beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridge-wood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with silver draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite lacy; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryp-tomonas forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering, "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; when they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the finishing touches

which have wrought out the colors
and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists
from all over the continent.

And as for the pavements, pavements that look and act like granite —where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard of place reports more and better, Daytona chews down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruit.
Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous
one may be to many things, the mere mention of "flowers and squirrels, birds and fruits" will send a thrill
that is reflected in distended pupils
and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare goober there is a bunny ready to come and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and know into the meat,
casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers. Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round, you are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variegated hues predominate; another household has a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness
and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, profusion and all desirable qualities would truly astonish you.

The Fastest Autos and The Finest
Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or Timbuctoo, and you will be "shown" here is where the world's record for speed is broken with every recurring season. Autos, the latest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousands of flowing wells. It is a continuous show with a constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horse power up to a 200-horse power, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit, when you do the roads and the beach are yours.
The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down into your wallet only for coin for auto, and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will enarm and hold you. Come and see.

A Modern Shipwreck.

In an account of the wreck of the sailing ship Carnarvon Bay on King Island, Australia, it is related that when the vessel struck the captain calmly took a cigar from his pocket, bit the end off and lit it before ordering the boats to be launched. Even this display of lack of fear did not entirely prevent some degree of panic among the men, however, and seven men pushed off in the port lifeboat, leaving twenty-two to scramble into the starboard boat. In spite of the captain's orders the men in the port boat refused to come alongside, and those in the starboard boat shouted that if they did not put off the masts would fall on them. Instead of hurrying to the boat the captain strolled to his cabin and collected his papers. After he had entered the boat he transferred five men to the port boat and made for Tasmania, 160 miles away. He and the masts steered in turn, while the men bled with empty biscuit tins, and forty-eight hours later both boats reached land.—Chicago News.

Oddities of Cecil Rhodes.

He possessed few intimate friends, and not even to all of them did he disclose his hand. More acquaintances disliked his moody silences, varied with fits of rather boisterous fun. They considered him exclusive, morose, rough and overbearing. And it must be admitted that he was a good hater, violent when thwarted and at times blunt to the point of rudeness. It is difficult to be sufficiently unconventional to shock a mining camp, but he shocked it. In dress he was almost disreputable. He seldom took pains to ingratiate himself with any one, and a man who too openly scorns his fellows must expect to suffer social ostracism and to have his character traduced. It would be idle to deny that for a time there were unfavorable rumors in circulation regarding him or that he was in many circles unpopular. But, like Gallo, he "cared for none of those things."—Sir Lewis Michel.

Sand Tree of Prussia.

We are accustomed to regard sand as utterly barren, but the plants native to the coast sands of Prussia have been enumerated by naturalists whose estimates vary from 171 to 234 varieties. Of these one of the most available is the Arundo arenaria (marum) which thrives only in sand and in the salt air of the beach. This in time serves to prepare the soil for larger plants.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

TO THE VOTERS OF DAYTONA:
I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Assessor for the city of Daytona at the coming city election. 44-6t

H. HARTSHORN.

Poe's Short Stories.

There are in the best of Poe's brief tales a constructive skill, a command of design and a gift of decoration rare in any literature and almost unknown in English, which is ever unduly negligent of form. And no one need wonder that Poe's short stories wandered swiftly out of our languages into French and Italian and Spanish, into German and Scandinavian and Bohemian, into strange tongues where no other American author, except Fenimore Cooper, had ever before penetrated. His weird psychological studies have influenced later writers as unlike as Maupassant and Flaubert. Fitz-James, O'Brien, Robert Louis Stevenson and Rudyard Kipling. His tales of a mystery solved at last by observation and deduction have been imitated by Dumas and Sardou, by Gaboriau and Bolsogobey, by Wilkie Collins and Conan Doyle. And Sherlock Holmes, the only fictitious character to win international recognition in the final years of the nineteenth century, is the reincarnation of a figure first projected by Poe.—Brander Matthews in Century.

Making a Cake With the Bible.

The following unique recipe for Scripture cake is copied from an old English cookbook. For the ingredients and directions for making the cake you must refer to the Bible, in the chapters and verses given here-with. It may be added that by carefully following the directions you will be able to make a most delicious cake—the very best thing for a Sunday afternoon tea:

Four and a half cups of I Kings iv, 22; half pound Judges v, 25; two cups Jeremiah vi, 20; two cups Nahum iii, 12; two cups I Samuel xxx, 12; two cups Numbers xvii, 8; two teaspoonfuls I Samuel xiv, 25; to taste, II Chronicles ix, 9; six Jeremiah xvii, 11; one and a half cups Judges iv, 19; two teaspoonfuls Amos iv, 7; one pinch Leviticus ii, 13; directions, Proverbs xxiii, 14; bake one and a half to two hours. Baking powder may be used instead of yeast or leaven, as it is termed in the Bible.

Practical Christianity.

"On behalf of the sewing circle of this church," said the pastor at the conclusion of the morning service, "I desire to thank the congregation for fifty-seven buttons placed in the contribution box during the past month. If now the philanthropically inclined donors of these objects will put a half dozen undershirts and three pairs of other strictly secular garments on the plate next Sunday morning, so that we may have something to sew those buttons on, we shall be additionally grateful."—Harper's Weekly.

I met old Time. "What's up?" I cried.
A melancholy ring.
Was in his voice as he replied,
"The price of everything!" —Puck.

A "Fast" Train.

"Speaking of railroads," said the truthful man, "the ultimate word, in my experience, was a certain 'limited' on which I traveled last summer. At a point where we were making our greatest speed a man stood at the side of the track with a moving picture machine. I leaned out of the window and called to him, 'How are you getting on?'
"He stopped turning the crank and spoke with an expression of deep disgust.
"It don't seem to be no use," he said. 'Hold your head still, please. I want to get a time exposure.'—Everybody's.

The Burglar's Prayer.

Sir Herbert Risley, speaking of the castles of eastern Bengal at a meeting of the Royal Anthropological Institute, said a curious system of religious worship prevailed among a caste who were professional burglars. They made a space in the ground, and a man then cut his arm and prayed to one of the earth gods that there might be a dark night and that he might succeed in obtaining great booty and escape capture.—London Standard.

No Whiskers on His Sea Food.

Two colored porters paused to rest a moment on their mops in a downtown office building recently. "Boy," said one, smacking his lips, "did you ever eat mushrat?" "Mushrat?" returned the other. "No; I never eat any mushrat. The only fancy sea food I ever fussed with was lobster."—New York World.

Puzzled.

Mother, fat lunch—Yes, darling, these little sardines are sometimes eaten by the larger fish. Mabel sized five—But, mamma, how do they get the cans open?—London Ideas.

The Truth.

"Truth is as clear as a bell," quoted the wise guy.
"Yes, but it isn't always told," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

Excellent Hunting and Fishing
NEW SMYRNA, FLORIDA

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.
With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the state of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the state is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

HUNG UP AT HOLLY HILL, 2 MILES NORTH OF CITY.

IMPOSSIBLE AT THIS TIME TO PREDICT WHEN THE BIG STEAMER WILL ARRIVE AT DAYTONA.

The steamer Swan left St. Augustine for the run to Daytona at 8 o'clock last Sunday morning and at the present time is stuck on a bar at Holly Hill two miles north of this city.

Capt. Howard of the Swan expected trouble in bringing the steamer through at this time and this was one of the reasons for deciding to make Daytona the north end of the run along the East Coast for this winter. No further efforts will be made to take the boat through between this city and St. Augustine until the canal company has finished the work of deepening and widening the canal. This work will be finished in three months, it is announced by the canal company, and it is then expected the Swan will have little trouble in making the trip through between St. Augustine and Daytona.

At the present time it is impossible to announce when the big boat will reach Daytona although it is thought it is thought she will be floated on the next tide. No schedule for the vessel will be announced until after she has made at least one trip through the inland waterway as far as Palm Beach.

KLOCK IS STILL IN RACE AS CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

DECLARES REPORT CIRCULATED TO THE CONTRARY IS INCORRECT AND HAS BEEN DONE FOR A PURPOSE.

Dr. G. A. Klock is still in the race as a candidate for mayor of the city of Daytona and has no thought of dropping out of the fight. This is the substance of a statement made to the Daily News by Dr. Klock, who denies that the report circulated about the mayor that he has dropped out of the race is incorrect and has been done for a purpose.

W. C. HOWES PASSES AWAY.

W. C. Howes, of Port Orange, died at the Railway hospital at St. Augustine at 7 o'clock this morning. A very peculiar coincidence is that his death occurred on his sixtieth birthday. The body will be taken to Port Orange tonight.

Mr. Howes was for years in the mercantile business at Oak Hill, but sold his business a few years ago and moved to Port Orange, where he has since resided.

JUST GOSSIP BY THE GOSSIPER.

J. W. Booth has been handling alligators for many years without accident and a few days ago came the nearest he has ever been to being caught by one of the animals. During the time Mr. Booth has been handling these animals he has made a careful study of their habits and peculiarities and has learned about all there is to know about the beasts. It was simply a lapse of memory and a little carelessness on his part that placed him in a dangerous position recently, and it was quick action that saved him from serious injury. He was removing his supply of small alligators from the separate pen in which they have been kept to a larger pen in which the big animals are secured and was inside the larger enclosure with several small alligators in his hands when he happened to look behind him and noticed the biggest animal in the bunch making straight for him with his mouth wide open. The nose of the monster alligator was within a couple of feet of his leg, and it didn't take him long to drop the little fellows and vault over the fence. It is supposed the big alligator was acting from a sense of duty that he was protecting the little ones. In future Mr. Booth will keep a weather eye open in the back of his head when handling little alligators in the same pen with the big fellows.

TWO SENATORS ELECTED BY THE LEGISLATURES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Senators Dupont, of Delaware, and Clark, of Wyoming, were elected by the legislatures of those states today.

Miss Helen Roddy, of Port Orange, Fla., died at the Railway hospital at St. Augustine at 7 o'clock this morning. A very peculiar coincidence is that her death occurred on her sixtieth birthday. The body will be taken to Port Orange tonight.

Fate of a Duchess.

We have had excellent morals drawn from the substantial waist of the Venus of Milo for the admonition of the fashionable woman. But what can we say about the Duchesse de Mazarin, who (G. Duval tells us in "Shadows of Old Paris") died in 1775 from tight lacing, although she had posed for a statue of Venus?

BUSINESS MEETING OF BARACA*CLASS MONDAY EVENING.

WILL HAVE DEBATE AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, MONDAY NIGHT, JAN. 30, WHICH WILL BE OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.

The young men's Baraca class of the First Baptist church, held its weekly business meeting at the home of E. C. Tomlinson, Monday evening. The main business features of the evening was a motion made by Lovick Blitch to procure caps and pennants for the class, made of the class colors, blue and white. Also a debate was announced to take place in the lecture rooms of the First Baptist church at 7:30 on January 30, between Dave Hamilton and E. C. Tomlinson. Subject—"Resolved, It is more beneficial to the people of this city to drain the swamp land around Daytona and encourage farming than to erect a technical school for boys." Affirmative, Dave Hamilton; negative, E. C. Tomlinson. The public is cordially invited to attend this debate.

Horrors of Bokhara.

The terrible deeds that once made Bokhara a byword are now prohibited by the Russian government. Prisoners are not permitted, for instance, to be dragged through the streets by galloping horses. Nor are they thrown from the top of the high tower called the Minar Katan. This was the usual punishment meted out to evildoers in the old days. Watched by thousands of spectators, the poor wretches were flung from that giddy height on to the flagstones beneath.

Bokhara has many chambers of horrors, unwholesome for western eyes to see and the description of which would certainly be unfit for publication. Perhaps the most horrible of these is a pit where prisoners were tortured by vermin, which were so numerous and ravenous that in the absence of human prey they were fed on chunks of raw meat.—Wide World Magazine.

Disraeli and Goldwin Smith.

It may have been partly by suspicion of my possession of an unpleasant secret that Disraeli was moved to follow me across the Atlantic and try, as he did in "Lothair," to brand me as "a social sycophant." His knowledge of my social character was not great, for I had only once met him in society. His allusion to the "Oxford professor" who was going to the United States was as transparent as if he had used my name. Had I been in England, where my character was known, I should have let the attack pass, but I was in a strange country, where, made by a man of note, the attack was likely to tell. I therefore gave Disraeli the lie, and neither he nor any of his organs ever ventured to repeat the calumny.—Goldwin Smith in McClure's.

The Thimble.

About 200 years ago a London goldsmith called Trotting made and presented to the lady of his heart on her birthday anniversary a thimble of gold, beautifully ornamented and chased, accompanied by a note which introduced the little contraption as a "token of my humble esteem which shall protect those delicate, fair and industrious fingers from prick and scar of needle head." That was the origin of the thimble.

SEABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH, two enterprising and progressive towns on the Halifax Peninsula, are geographically one although incorporated as separate municipalities. The towns parallel the peninsula north and south for a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the surging seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communion by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth, air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straight-away record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rival.

The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobilizing some part of each day. Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors in both towns.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy.

Marshal Tureen and His Soup.
There is a quaint old shop in London which still bears the name of Samuel Birch, the first purveyor of turtle soup in the English capital. Amid all the changes of the city Birch's shop in Cornhill survives in the guise it wore when its owner was lord mayor of London in the memorable year of Waterloo. Samuel Birch achieved distinction in many fields. He was an orator and a patriot; he was colonel of the city militia and accepted with great good nature his nickname of Marshal Tureen; he was a man of letters, produced plays that held the stage and books that were readable, though now seldom read. One of his plays, "The Adopted Child," was popular long after its author had killed his last turtle. His daughter married Lamartine, and one of his sons, a fine classical scholar, began a family of scholars. Yet Birch's claim to fame rests most upon the fact that he was the man who made turtle soup popular. City merchants, templars from the Inns and dandies from the west end all flocked to Cornhill, the turtle house of all London.—Argonaut.

Reign of the Dandies.
In the matter of dress we have fallen upon a decline since the days when the Duke of Wellington was refused admission to Almack's because he was wearing trousers instead of breeches and silk stockings. Even Almack's, however, had to admit trousers within its closely guarded portals the following year. When Gladstone was "up" at Oxford the reign of the dandies was in full swing. When late in life he revisited the university to lecture to the undergraduates on Homer he was asked by G. W. E. Russell whether he noticed any difference between his audience and the men of his own time. "Yes," he replied, "in their dress an enormous change. I am told that I had among my audience some of the most highly connected and richest men in the university, and there wasn't one whom I couldn't have dressed from top to toe for £5."—St. James' Gazette.

Fifty Years Ago Today.
Jan. 25.
The United States sloop of war Brooklyn sailed south from Norfolk, Va., with sealed orders, having 200 soldiers on board. Mrs. Lincoln and Robert arrived at Springfield, much to the relief of the president elect, who for three days had been regularly on the beat between home and the railroad station despite the cold and snow. Bob's smart Boston dress "made a striking contrast to the careless, awkward rigging of his presidential father."

$50,000 a Year Steel Trust Head Began Work at $5 Weekly

JAMES A. FARRELL, who hereafter will draw $50,000 a year as the president of the United States Steel corporation, is forty-eight years old and has been in the steel business since he was sixteen. He began as a humble workman in a wire mill in New Haven, Conn., where he was born. His pay was $5 a week at the start, but within a few years he was a foreman and was getting comfortable wages. Then he decided that Pittsburg was the place for a man who knew as much about the steel business as he did, so he went to Pittsburg. He remained there in various capacities with steel and wire concerns until the billion dollar steel corporation was formed, when he became president of the United States Steel Products Export company, the export department of the parent concern. He has held that position for eight years, during which time the export business of the corporation has shown steady gains. It was his work in this capacity that caused his selection to his new post. Mr. Farrell lives in Brooklyn. He is married and is the father of two boys and three girls. He has a great capacity for work and usually spends ten to twelve hours daily at his desk.

Sorry He Spoke.
Husband—Do you know that every time a woman gets angry she adds a new wrinkle to her face?
Wife—No, I did not, but if it is so I presume it is a wise provision of nature to let the world know what sort of husband a woman has.

Asking Too Much.
"The count has promised that he will never beat or kick me if I will marry him," said the beautiful heiress.
"But has he promised to work for you?" her father asked.
"Oh, papa, don't be unreasonable!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

ORMOND-ON-THE-HALIFAX

ORMOND is 6 miles north of Daytona, located on the west bank of the Halifax River. The location of the town permits of good drainage and perfect sanitation; the elevation is superb and ideal for winter homes. A wide bridge connects Ormond with Ormond Beach. Many fine homes are maintained on either side of the river, most of them surrounded by sub-tropical flora and shrubbery, besides thrifty orange and other citrus fruit trees. Ormond has many attractions—excellent automobilizing, good fishing, safe boating, and many pleasant drives. At Ormond Beach is located the large Hotel Ormond, and its lesser sister, the Inverton Inn. The former occupies a position overlooking the Halifax, and the latter has as its outlook the magnificent beach and the broad Atlantic. Besides the broad, smooth beach there are many drives for carriages and automobiles around Ormond—drives through groves of golden oranges; drives through tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient Causeway built by slaves of planters of long ago, and drives to the plantations of hospitable settlers, whose places are replete with the interest of southern fruits and flowers. One of the most interesting of these plantations is at the headwaters of the Halifax and known as Moundgrove. It is one of the finest orange groves on the East Coast of Florida and is amid very pretty surroundings. Moundgrove is on the Daytona-Saint Augustine road.

HANNIBAL, MO., TO HONOR HUMORIST MARK TWAIN

Missouri Will Join With City Where He Passed
His Boyhood to Add to Nation's Tributes.

Park, Which Embraces
Cave, Made Famous by Tom Sawyer and In-jun Jo, Will Be Memorial.

By ROBERTUS LOVE.
It was Jesus of Nazareth who said in an age when prophets were many, "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country and in his own house." In all reverence it may be averred that the reservation contained in the last clause of this saying is not applicable to Mark Twain. Here was a prophet with honor not only throughout the world, but to a far more intensified degree in his own country and in his own house. Even in the house where he lived in boyhood and in the town and state which may be called "his own country" Mark Twain was not without honor during his lifetime, and now that he has passed from earth as a living presence his memory is to be honored and perpetuated in tangible form.

The state of Missouri and the city of Hannibal, which lies upon the Missouri bank of the mighty Mississippi, are joining hands just now to do honor to their prophet, who once good naturedly resented the characterization of "the first Missourian" on the ground that he was "not so old as all that." Even without such tangible evidences of the former residence of Mark Twain in Hannibal's midst, the city where he spent his boyhood, which is the scene of many episodes in his most famous books and which he loved as a father loves a child, will be always a Mecca for the pilgrims who elect to worship at the shrine of the creator of Tom Sawyer, Injun Jo, Huckleberry Finn and other fictional characters who are almost as much alive as is little Tommy Tucker around the corner from your home or the boy who delivers your beefsteak at the back door.

State May Build Monument.

Frank Sosey, member of the Missouri legislature from Marion county, in which Mark Twain was born, has introduced a bill to appropriate $10,000 same Mississippi river and others abutting other American streams. But to the Hannibal resident there is only one Lovers' Leap, and that is the rugged, jagged, rocky, but precipitous and picturesque bluff that rises sharp and sheer 205 feet above the level of the river, with railroad trains thundering and factory machines whirling in the narrow strip below on the very bank of the stream.

This Hannibal Lovers' Leap is distinct from all the others. Each has its legend of the pretty Indian maiden and her dusky lover who hurled themselves from the edge of the bluff because pater or mater or both forbade the bans. Hannibal's leap is different because it is associated with Mark Twain's early life and with some of his most popular works.

Shrunk With Age.

The present writer well remembers the very last time Mark Twain visited his home, how the humorist lay in bed at his hotel in his white nightgown, smoking a black cigar and looking from his southern window through the matchless glory of a June morning down across the gorge of Bear creek to a certain bluff that jutted up from the river's edge. He gazed and gazed and was silent. Finally he said, slowly and with perfect pathos:

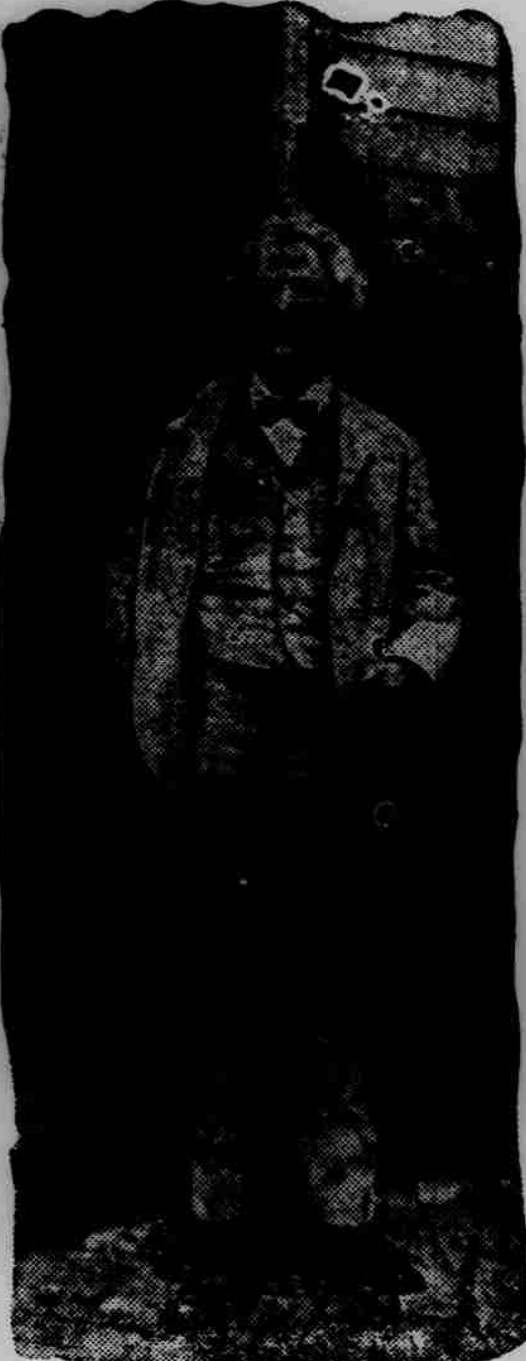

"I'm looking for Lovers' Leap, and I reckon that must be it; but, oh, how much smaller it is than it was when I was a boy."

Then he smoked and smoked and was silent. I stole softly out of his room. That was the only thing I ever stole in Hannibal, but I felt that I was justified.

And so it is this Lovers' Leap, the one that was beloved by Mark Twain through more than three score years of his wandering life, which is to be the arch and acme of the new Mark Twain park. This world man, who with her 22,642 inhabitants—10,000 more than she had in 1900—wants the cave to be named for Mark Twain, so we might just as well yield to the inevitable.

As a matter of fact, Hannibal is becoming more and more Mark Twain as the years pass. The shanty house where lived the original of Huckleberry Finn was burned down shortly after the June of 1902, when Mark Twain made his final pilgrimage there to. But there remain still several claimants to the honor—if it be that of being the original of Huck. Hannibal also is full of the original Tom Sawyer, though Mark Twain himself once guardedly admitted that he was Tom. There is also, or was a few years ago, one "original" of Injun Jo, who charged me 50 cents for the privilege of photographing him with his hat on and a dollar with his hat off. He made a handsome income for many years as the original of Injun Jo. It was not Mark Twain, but another great American humorist, who remarked that the American people like to be humbugged.

Mark Twain's Narrow Escape.

On that last visit to Hannibal Mark Twain was nearly killed by the people—with kindness. Living on one square meal a day to ward off his ancient enemy, dyspepsia, he was invited to about twenty breakfasts, luncheons and dinners daily during the week he spent there. He found it necessary, in order to preserve his life a few years longer, to appoint several gastronomical proxies. One of his understudies in this line, I can assure the good housewives of Hannibal, was founded for ten days afterward and really never yet has quite regained the joyful appetite he possessed in earlier youth.

Hannibal, in truth, is the home of good cooks and generous hospitality. Judge Sydney J. Roy, secretary and literary light of the Commercial club, has written: "It is a city of 'homes.' People 'live' rather than reside or board in this river metropolis." Commercially growing by leaps and bounds, proud of her shoe factories and her cement works and railroad shops, Hannibal's champion leap always will be Lovers' Leap, and her bounds will be set only by the fame of her most famous citizen, who moved in as a boy and went back as an old man after he had made himself world noted under an assumed name. It was something worth while to hear those old fellows calling him Sam, and I verily believe that until that last pathetic visit "home" he had forgotten that his real name was Clemens.

KAISER SPOILED HIS TRADE.

Wanted Only Auto Horn In Existence Like Sample.

An orchestral instrument maker of Markneukirchen, in Saxony, has discovered that the patronage of the German emperor is not an unmixed blessing. Three years ago he invented an automobile horn which sounded four notes. The first one he finished in pure silver and presented to the kaiser.

The kaiser was so delighted with the new instrument that he gave immediate orders forbidding anybody else to have one like it. The inventor found this compliment too much of a business drawback to enjoy for more than a very brief spell.

For the last three years he has been doing his utmost to get permission to manufacture the instrument for the general public. He has just succeeded in securing a special decree from the federal council of the empire whereby motor horns of four notes may be employed by motorists when touring in the country, but it continues to constitute a misdemeanor to use such a horn in towns or cities, where it will remain the exclusive privilege of the kaiser.

The king of Saxony recently ordered the emperor to order the Markneukirchen manufacturer to construct for him a horn with six notes. Princess August Wilhelmine, one of the kaiser's daughters-in-law, has a motor horn which performs a melodious theme.

REFORMED BREAD TOO SUCCESSFUL

Old English Squire Deluged With Orders For Loaves.

BEREFT OF PEACE AND MIND.

Little Stone Mill Turned Out Whole Meal Loaf Like That Eaten Before Days of False Teeth and Indigestion, and Entire United Kingdom Wanted Samples.

Sir Oswald Mosley, master of Rolleston Hall, Burton-on-Trent, England, has found himself suddenly bereft of his wonted peace and his large estate overwhelmed with the clamorous importunities of the world.

Sir Oswald recently announced his intention to start a national bread reform. The newfangled methods of milling and the artificial non-nutritious white bread, according to the Rolleston squire, were ruining the teeth of people and undermining their health. He purposed, therefore, with his little stone mill and the aid of the baker of Rolleston village to produce a whole meal loaf of the saving perfection of English bread in the days prior to false teeth, indigestion and appendicitis.

Stream of Messenger Boys.

For the first day Sir Oswald confined his purpose to supplying sample loaves to the villagers about Rolleston Hall. Then, urged by outsiders, he consented to forward a sample loaf to anybody in the country who sent three pence (6 cents). Scarcely had the announcement been made when telegraph boys began to stream to Rolleston Hall, and the next post brought the biggest mail ever seen on the estate.

Sir Oswald had a shooting party at his house and wished to go out a little, but this became impossible, and the guests were compelled to shoot alone, while the astounded squire was bottled up with a flood of telegrams and letters asking for whole meal bread baked in the old way.

Compelled to Cancel Offer.

After a few hours' struggle, during every moment of which they say the squire became more perplexed and distracted, he dispatched telegrams to the newspapers withdrawing his offer, saying that the little stone mill and the village baker already had more than they could do in five years.

Sir Oswald and a clerical staff are busy returning money to the great landowners who wished to start similar enterprises on their own estates and to health societies, millers, bakers, doctors and all sorts and conditions of men.

However, the master of Rolleston, who is one of the few really typical John Bulls left in the country, with sawed off top hat, mutton chop whiskers, broad face, short, thick body, knickers and top boots, hopes eventually to help others carry bread reform to success.

BISMARCK MEMOIRS HELD UP.

Volume Criticising Present Kaiser Secret Until His Death.

It is announced from Berlin that the third volume of Bismarck's memoirs will not be published during the present kaiser's lifetime. The first two volumes were published some years ago and contained many interesting revelations concerning political events of the period of Bismarck's official career and many side lights on the history of those times.

The third volume is known to contain an unfavorable account of the present kaiser, written in connection with the circumstances which led to Bismarck's dismissal from office in 1890, two years after William II's accession to the throne, when the Iron Chancellor conceived a fierce hostility toward the young, impetuous monarch.

Some uneasiness has been caused at the German court from time to time by rumors that Bismarck's heirs intended to publish this volume in the near future. The announcement now made is intended to banish such fears and make it clear that Bismarck's judgment on William II. will not be given to the world during the kaiser's reign.

SWISS HAVE ELASTIC ROADS.

Tar Coated Gravel Proves Inexpensive, Lasting and Noiseless.

An interesting experiment has been made with promising results at Zurich, Switzerland. Fine gravel, the grains averaging from one-twentieth to one-twelfth of an inch in diameter, the whole carefully freed from earthy substances, was coated in a revolving drum with tar. These pellets were then carefully dried and hardened and after eight or ten weeks were spread during dry weather in a thick layer upon a prepared roadbed and rolled.

The road thus formed is inexpensive, possesses a certain elasticity and is said to withstand well the effects of heavy traffic. The desirability of a slightly elastic road for saving wear and tear and suppressing noise is evident.

Railroad Built Quickly.

An eighty-nine mile railroad in North Carolina, in the construction of which no wood was used, recently was completed and opened for service in fifteen months from the time work was started.

for the erection of a monument to the humorist and philosopher in Hannibal. There was also on foot until recently a movement to have the state purchase the boyhood home of Mark Twain on Hill street, Hannibal, but the local committee having that matter in charge has decided that, inasmuch as the house is not a property of any considerable real estate value, the people of Hannibal themselves should take care of that and preserve it, letting the state's share be the memorial provided for in Mr. Sosey's bill.

Just what form this memorial will take is as yet a matter to be considered, though the sentiment seems to favor a monument, with a statue of the white haired author, to be placed either in the small city park in Hannibal or in the new Mark Twain park which is to be created by the city.

The Commercial club of Hannibal has just acquired by purchase eighteen acres of land, which includes the famous Lovers' Leap and about half a mile of the picturesque bluffs rising above the Mississippi just south of the city. This tract is to be deeded to the city and to be held perpetually for park purposes. Now, there are lovers' leaps and lovers' leaps. Personally I know of several along this had sailed every sea and steamboat every river of consequence, said that in his opinion there is no finer river view in the world than that which is to be enjoyed from the top of Lovers' Leap or from Inspiration point, a similar height just north of Hannibal. While no doubt the Hannibal people have their own preference as to the location of the Mark Twain monument, may not one suggest that it be placed on the summit of Lovers' Leap, facing the river he knew and loved so well and whose fame he has made immortal in his book which may be called the biography of the Mississippi?

Down to Mark Twain's Cave.

You pass beneath Lovers' Leap when you drive or trudge down the yellow, dusty road to Mark Twain's cave. People used to call it Tom Sawyer's cave, because it was in that remarkable freak of nature, a narrow passage a mile long underground, with "pockets" where one easily might get lost, that Tom Sawyer and his tiny sweetheart were imprisoned for days, while all of Hannibal, at that time only a matter of a thousand population or so, hunted high and low for them. AT THEIR HANDSOME WINTER

HOME.

Mrs. T. F. Cordis and daughter-in-law, Mrs. T. Edward Cordis, entertained Saturday afternoon at four o'clock tea at their handsome winter home on the Halifax, Seabreeze.

Seventy or more guests responded to invitations and from four until six o'clock the house was filled with animated groups of beautifully attired ladies, whose gowns vied with the flowers in lending color and beauty to the hours.

The porch decorations consisted of palms, large foliage plants and magnolia blossoms, and in the parlors and dining room, of roses, the red color scheme being carried out in the dining room. Music by the Clarendon orchestra throughout the afternoon greatly enhanced the joys of the hours.

The dining room table was spread with an exquisitely embroidered lunch cloth, and centered with a vase of red roses. Delicious refreshments, consisting of a salad course followed by wafers and confections, coffee and punch were served. Mesdames Gamble and Rogers presided at the coffee urn and punch bowl the first hour and Mesdames Wells and Embehofer the second hour; they were assisted by Mesdames B. D. Woodward and Geo. L. Farrell, also by young Misses Margaret Gamble and Margaret Farrell, who were daintily attired in white, and with their bright faces and ribbons flitted among the guests as gracefully as butterflies.

While tea was being served, Mr. White, director of the orchestra, sang the Rosary, and also responded to an encore.

Mrs. Cordis is a delightful hostess and was graciously assisted in promoting the pleasures of the afternoon by her young daughter-in-law, Miss T. Edward Cordis.
